Cuticura.

From the Hon. WM. TAYLOR, State Senator of Massachusetts.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My hand and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I doubt if ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin-humors. 1867 I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. ——— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I went to the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, as I can safely say, without any improvement. I [illegible] other physicians, and among them Dr. ———, of East Boston, and Dr. ———, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good, their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, $20 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Mehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your CUTICURA, and promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of Cuticura, and some Cuticura Soap, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of Cuticura it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I felt that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks' use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores.

I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of Cuticura, and twelve years of as constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get Cuticura and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, or I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal medicine but the Cuticura Resolvent.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

About half the taxes of Auburn for 1879 have thus far been collected.

The gale Wednesday stripped a considerable portion of the tin roofing from the Poland Spring House.

The Lewiston Water Works this year will probably earn over 2 per cent. on their cost—more than was counted on for the first year.

In the year 1800, as appears by Lewiston town records, the good burghers in town meeting assembled "voted to raise $40 to pay off the town debt."

Maud Soule, a little five years old girl, was accidentally jostled down a stairway at a school-house in Auburn, on Friday, and sustained a fracture of an arm.

Deacon Wright of Lewiston, planted a plum tree four years ago, known as the peach plum, and this year raised three pecks of fine plums.

The Lewiston Journal says: No wonder the Smiths are plenty. In looking over the old town records yesterday, we found one Lewiston Smith who for fourteen years had annually come up to the Clerk's office to report a birth in his family.

Mrs. A. C. Harlow, of Auburn, breakfasted as usual, on Friday, but soon after lay down, not feeling quite well. In a brief time she was found to be dead. Heart disease was probably the cause.

Aroostook.

The amount of wheat raised in Aroostook county this season is large, and the quality is excellent. Philip McGuire of New Limerick, raised fifty-one and a half bushels of wheat from three and three-quarter bushels sowing. It was the Lost Nation variety.

Cumberland.

Thursday night Darius Palmer, living at Turner's Island, fell from the Eastern Railroad bridge, Portland, and was drowned. Some railroad men were near by and got a boat, but too late. The body has not yet been found.

Kennebec.

The Mail says that a poor old horse, attached to a load of edgings from the Fairfield mills, weakened while passing Colby University, and finally dropped in the road. But he was finally got up, and being unharnessed was led off. The next morning, the owner went up to look after his property, and found his wagon on the top of Memorial Hall, and the load nicely stacked upon the top of one of the other college buildings.

A son of Mr. J. A. Hodgdon of Waterville, Grand Worthy Vice Templar, fell and broke his arm on the 17th. The arm was badly shattered.

Mr. Milliken says that he has already leased about forty of the rooms at the Augusta House to parties who will be there during the winter.

A few evenings ago the son of D. C. Knight of East Pittston, received a painful injury in falling from a truck wagon, dislocating and fracturing the left fore arm.

The Augusta Journal says: Gorham Hastings of Sidney, raised a little wheat last year, but this season he has harvested some sixty bushels. But this is not the only instance of an increased production of this grain the present year, for many farmers in the county have raised more than last year, while others have attempted it for the first time. Those farmers who have brought wheat to the market, received one dollar per bushel for it.

Knox.

Ship Frank F. Curling, from Cardiff for San Francisco, abandoned off Cape Horn, was built at Thomaston last year, and was recently coppered and loaded with coal, which the ship owned. One eighth of the ship was owned by the captain—the remainder by Edward O'Brien. Loss over $100,000; not insured.

Sagadahoc.

The Times says that a fine bird house, elaborate and commodious, has just been completed at Bath, for Mr. Irving J. Brown, of Portland. The structure contains fifty rooms, and will accommodate upwards of 400 black martins. On top is a gilded eagle from the hand of C. A. L. Sampson, serving as a weathervane, and so accurately balanced as to be sensible to the slightest breath of air. This house is designed for Mr. Brown's establishment at Old Orchard.

Waldo.

The son of S. G. Norton of Palermo was in a scuffle the other day with other boys and had his arm broken.

York.

The Argus says that on Sunday night, Sept. 6th, or 7th, the freight depots at Alfred and Springvale, on the Portland & Rochester railroad, were broken into and five boxes of tobacco and a firkin of nutmegs stolen from the latter, and two boxes of tobacco and a chest of tea from the Alfred depot. City Marshal Grant and Deputy Sheriff Marr of Saco, went to work to find the thieves. They have arrested J. Quimby and Eustis Mellen, and recovered part of the property.

NEW MAGAZINES.

ST. NICHOLAS for October closes the sixth volume of the magazine with an array of features hard to match in interest for the little folks. Louisa M. Alcott contributes the opening story entitled 'Pinafore,' a charming narrative illustrated with fine portraits of characters in the Children's Pinafore, which will delight every boy and girl who has heard the famous operetta. The Elevated Railroads of New York are described in a long article by Charles Barnard.

Noah's Ark Ashore, is the title of another descriptive article which will be eagerly read by every boy and girl. Besides these, there is a timely little paper telling all about the strange doings and mysteries of Halloween, and illustrated with a lovely frontispiece; while a very Curious Monastery is shown in a full-page picture; and a fascinating School in the Woods is described by Maurice Thompson, the literary archer. Of Stories there is a capital budget, beginning with the two serials Eyebright and A Jolly Fellowship, which are both concluded in this number with climax installments. Then there is a lively fishing story—Mr. Carothers' Secret, written by the author of Dab Kinzer; a pleasant fanciful tale by Moncure D. Conway, and a strong home story for girls called What Kate Found in the Well. An Educational Breakfast at the Peterkins, a very comical affair, is told about by Miss Lucretia P. Hale; Mary E. Bradley contributes a fine poem called Duke Leopold's Stone, for which Alfred Fredericks has drawn a beautiful illustration; and there are several funny pictures and verses scattered through the number, while the Departments at the end will look at least as inviting as ever to the young eyes that read them so carefully every month.

WIDE AWAKE for October opens with a frontispiece which illustrates Rev. I. L. Beman's true story of Hunting Deer. This is followed by an interesting article from Mary Wager-Fisher on the Philadelphia Reform School. Then comes a capital story about Polly's Temptation, with a charming drawing by Champ. Two other full-page illustrated poems are S. C. Stone's How they Received the King, and The Weed's Mission, by Margaret Eytinge. In St. Olave's the story has reached an exciting climax, and Archbishop's reading of the cypher proved to be correct; while in the Dogberry Bunch, part of that interesting family are in [illegible] Chicago. Don Quixote, Jr., meets w[illegible] Fighter, and big Story Teller.

Mr. Benjamin's American Artists Series, No. X., relates to Wordsworth Thompson, historical painter.

TILDEN S EFFRONTERY

It is a curious illustration of the contrarieties of New York politics, that while Cyrus W Field s attack upon Tilden for duplicity in connection with the elevated railroad speculation was published and quasi indorsed by the Democratic World the reply of Tilden to Field in the shape of an elaborate interview has been published specially in the columns of the Times

Without going into the merits of the stock jobbing controversy there is one feature of Tilden s statement that will attract general attention Field charged that while Tilden was cognizant of his nephew Pelton s corrupt attempts at bribery in the Electoral count as exposed by the "cipher despatches" he had recommended this same Pelton to Field as one worthy to be trusted with important interests of the corporation

Tilden s reply reveals the intriguer of Gramercy Park in even a clearer light than that thrown upon him on the witness stand before the Potter Committee Then Tilden pretended ignorance of Pelton s cipher villanies, and made that youth a scape goat for his innocent uncle He pretended to have boiled over with horrified indignation when he learned that Pelton was negotiating for the purchase of electoral votes, and even went so far with the sham as to have Pelton leave Gramercy Park and reside for a time at a hotel, with a public intimation that he had incurred the serious displeasure of his uncle Samuel

Now, in his reply to Field, we have a clearer glimpse of the moral quality of Tweed s political organizer in his present palliating and justifying reference to Pelton s cipher-bribery rascalities Here is Tilden s latest remark about his nephew's transactions in "best United States documents"

Col Pelton neither initiated nor consummated anything He merely listened to offers from officers to do what they admitted and he believed to be their lawful duty for hire before they violated that duty under corrupt inducements His wrong did not go beyond a futile dalliance

The coolness of that attempt of Tilden to whitewash his scape-goat of last year will be appreciated by everybody The Times says

"And now when all the world knows that an intimate relation of Mr Tilden, who was then an inmate of his house, was dickering with men who pretended that they could sell him Electoral votes we are calmly told that this was only futile dalliance Pelton, who could not go to the door of the house in Gramercy Park without Tilden s knowledge and consent, Pelton who was the dependent and willing tool of his uncle, dallied fruitlessly with bribery and corruption, amusing himself with the revelations of baseness which were thus made to him In the language of the worldly this is too thin" Nobody believes that Pelton whatever he may be could have conducted, in Tilden s house the negotiations which it is admitted that he did conduct without his uncle s knowledge And it is too late in the day for Mr Tilden or anybody else to whitewash this attempt at bribery as a futile dalliance

And the World is not less explicit or emphatic in its expression of disgust In its editorial it says it need not pain its readers by dwelling "upon the strange ideas of political morality involved in his [Tilden s] allusion to the attempts of his "nephew Mr Pelton to bribe Presidential Electors into doing their duty as instances of futile dalliance" The World proceeds thus

What it concerns us to day to point out is that in publishing this most distressing statement, Mr Tilden has made it impossible for the Democrats of the United States ever again seriously to entertain the notion of entering a contest for the Presidency under his leadership with any hope of success

OUR TRADE WITH GREAT BRITAIN

The Treasury Department has just received from London a copy of a document relating to trade with the United States made in reply to a Parliamentary inquiry of the House of Lords dated the 1 t of April, 1879, which called for a statement of the trade of the United Kingdom with the United States of America for the years from 1873 to 1878 inclusive

This document reveals in a very striking way the fact of the constantly increasing exports from the United States to Great Britain and of the rapidly decreasing exports from Great Britain to the United States The report of the American Bureau of Statistics for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1879, shows that the total exports of American merchandise and specie to Great Britain amounted to $363 013 646 while the total imports for the same period amounted to only $111 971,766, being an excess of exports over imports of $251,041,880 In other words, the exports from America to Great Britain were more than three times the amount of importation from that country

The Parliamentary document presents a doleful account of the decline of British exportations, and shows that Great Britain, year by year, appears to become more dependent upon the United States In the one article of animals, oxen and bulls, the importation into the United Kingdom from the United States had increased in value from about $60,000 in 1873 to nearly $6,000 000 in 1878

It is only a few weeks since the Commercial was applauding De La Matyr for his lugubrious and false statements that the iron furnaces of the country were idle and the forges silent, and now that "election is over" that paper editorially declares that we are not only supplying England with food but "the demand for iron exceeds the ability of our furnaces to supply it, and orders have been sent to England even from Pennsylvania, to meet immediate requirements"

The Roach steamship line to South America is encountering serious obstacles in the conduct its business. The American company is obliged to compete with the heavily subsidized English lines, which are taking freights at ruinously low rates for the purpose of killing off the American competitors

The Somerset S J Court opened at Skowhegan last Tuesday Judge Virgin remarked to the attorneys present that, it being the week following election, those who went up would want some time to come down, and those who went down would want some time to come up, and he should not insist on the time being fully occupied with the trial of cases the first week, but the second week he should expect to keep them busy.

THE GREAT USURPATION.

The United States under the Confederate Senate and House of Representatives an Oligarchy.

Under the above caption the Republican Congressional Committee have issued a pamphlet containing tables and statements worthy of the careful study of every thoughtful citizen It unmasks many Democratic pretensions Taking the present House of Representatives as a basis it shows that the majority of electoral votes the majority of population, the majority of wealth of intelligence, of tax payers, are Republicans. The Democratic States surpass the Republican States in but one respect—they contain more citizens who can not read and write It is natural that the party of fraud and violence should be the party of ignorance These tables cannot be refuted They will stand the severest scrutiny. They should close many Democratic lips which now boast that the Democracy is the popular party in this country The reverse is true On the basis of the very vote by virtue of which the Democracy has control of the present House of Representatives, the Republicans have a popular majority of 995 049 The Democracy is now the party of the minority Let the tables speak for themselves

The compiler of the general table says of it

"The above is not a showing of a 'Solid North' as against a 'Solid South' but a showing upon the basis of the actual representation, including in the Democratic States Indiana and Oregon, as also Ohio which through the infamous gerrymandering of the State by the Democracy has a Democratic majority in its representation in the House, while the Republicans had in 1878 a plurality of 10 993 in the vote by which they were elected But even with the suppression either by violence or fraud, or both, of the entire Republican vote in all the States South, and granting the Democracy in the Confederate States the fraudulent figures which they claim, with the strength and wealth of Indiana, Ohio and Oregon, all of them upon a fair and constitutional vote decidedly Republican States, the majority in the two Confederate houses of Congress, the Confederate Democracy in the Senate and House, are in the country in a hopeless minority

In illustration let us recapitulate the facts in the above table

In the electoral colleges the Republican States as represented in the present House, have 191 votes, against 178 of the Democratic States—a Republican majority of 13

On the popular vote, exclusive of California, as reported as cast in 1878, for Congress, with all its violence and tremendous Democratic frauds, its suppression of the entire Republican vote in all the Confederate States the 19 Republican States embrace a total of 3,834,684 votes, against 2 839,135 of the Democratic States—a Republican majority of 995,549, and, including the vote of California, a Republican majority of over a million votes

In population, according to the census of 1870, the 19 Republican States embrace 19,841,070 persons, against 18,314,435 of the Democratic States—a Republican majority of 1 526 635—a Republican majority of over a million and a half

Of the wealth of the nation, of a total valuation of $30,942,778,443, the Democratic States possess only $9,114 681,561, the Republican States possess $21,828,096,882—$12 713,415,321 more than the Democratic States, indeed, nearly three fourths of the total wealth of the nation.

Of the taxation for the support of the Government, to meet the vast liabilities saddled upon the nation as the effect of the Democratic rebellion for the destruction of the Constitution and the Union, of a total of $130,146,847.18 paid in 1878 as customs duties, $122,657,753 11 was collected in and paid by the Republican States—only $7,489,094 07 was collected in or paid by the Democratic States, that is, $115,168,659 04 more were collected and paid in the Republican than in the Democratic States, or in the Republican States were paid over fifteen-sixteenths of the whole customs revenue of the nation. Of a total of $104,518,632 from internal revenue in 1878, $57,638,193 was collected and paid in the 19 Republican States, and $46,880,439 in the Democratic States; that is, $10,757,754 more were collected and paid in the Republican than in the Democratic States."

HOW THE CONFEDERATES CONTROL THE COMMITTEES OF CONGRESS

And in the organization of the two houses of Congress the power thus usurped through violence and blood has been recognized and enlarged In the Senate the Democracy count 43 votes—28 from the South and only 12 from the North In the House they count 155 votes—100 from the South and only 55 from the North

In the Senate, of its 28 standing committees, the Confederates have the chairmanship of 16 of the most important—those on Privileges and Elections, on Finance, Appropriations, Commerce Agriculture, Post Offices and Post Roads Indian Affairs, Pensions Claims, District of Columbia Territories, Education and Labor, Railroads, Civil Service and Retrenchment, etc And they have not only the chairmanships of these important committees, but all the committees of the Senate are so constituted as to give the control of them to the Confederates In every case the majority of the committee is Democrats, but a majority of that majority is also Confederate, which gives the latter a control of the committee by controlling the majority. Thus

The Committee on Privileges and Elections, just now a most important committee, as it practically decides all cases of contested seats in the Senate—all questions as to rights to seats—is composed of 9 members—6 Democrats and 3 Republicans, but 5 of the 6 Democrats are Confederates, 1 is from the North or loyal States

The Committee on Finance is composed of 9 members, 5 Democrats and 4 Republicans but 3 of the Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Appropriations is composed of 9 members, 5 Democrats and 4 Republicans but 4 of the 5 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Commerce is composed of 9 member 5 Democrats and 4 Republicans, but 4 of the 5 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads is composed of 9 members, 6 Democrats and 3 Republicans, but 5 of the 6 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Claims just now in view of the immense amounts of pending rebel claims—hundreds of millions—a committee of the grandest importance to the South as it is to the nation is composed of 9 members 5 Democrats—all Confederates—and 4 Republicans

The Committee on the Election of President and Vice President, truly a most important committee to our whole people, is composed of 9 members 6 Democrats and 3 Republicans, but 4 of the Democrats are Confederates

And so on through all the Senate committees. A majority of the majority of the committee are confederates, and consequently control it under the caucus rule on all important questions

The petty State of Delaware is given the chairmanship of the two important committees on Privileges and Elections and Finance, the great State of New York the Committee on Patents West Virginia is given the Committee on Appropriations, the great State of Pennsylvania that on the Revision of the Laws Georgia is given the Committee on Commerce Texas the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, Virginia the Committee on Pensions North Carolina the Committee on Railroads, Tennessee the Committee on Education and Labor South Carolina that on Civil Service and Reform while the great maritime and industrial States of the North East and West, the great taxpayers of the nation, proprietors of its wealth thrift and intelligence, are practically excluded from any voice in shaping legislation for the control of the interests in which their citizens are so largely concerned

In the House the same rule governs in the distribution and composition of its committees Of its standing committees, 42 in number 22 and the most important ones have Confederate chairmen—those on Appropriations on Banking and Currency, Commerce the Judiciary Pacific Railroads, Railways and Canal Coinage Weights and Measures, Post Offices and Post Roads Claims Education and Labor, Accounts &c As in the Senate so in the House—all the committees are so constituted as to give the control of them to the Confederates Thus

The Committee on Elections which practically decides all cases of contested seats is composed of 15 members—9 Democrats and six Republicans but 6 of the 9 Democrats—a majority of the majority, are Confederate—only 3 are from the North or loyal States

The Committee on Ways and Means, the committee which controls or fixes the tax of the country is composed of 13 members—8 Democrats and 5 Republicans, but 5 of the Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Appropriations is composed of 15 members—9 Democrats and 6 Republicans but 6 of the 9 Democrats are Confederate

The Committee on Banking and Currency is composed of 11 members—7 Democrats and 4 Republicans, but 4 of the Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Pacific Railroads is composed of 13 members—8 Democrats and 5 Republicans, but 6 of the 8 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on War Claims, the committee which must decide on all rebel claims is composed of 11 member —6 Democrats and 5 Republicans, but 5 of the 6 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Commerce is composed of 15 members—10 Democrats and 5 Republicans but 7 of the 10 Democrats are Confederates

The Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads is composed of 11 members—7 Democrats and 4 Republicans, but 5 of the 7 Democrats are Confederate

And so the Committee on Public Expenditures, and the respective committees on the expenditures of the executive departments, the Committee on Foreign Affairs, on the Judiciary on Accounts Printing Invalid Pensions, etc, all so constituted as to give the control of them to the Confederates

In both houses the Committee on Education and Labor is given to the Confederates In the Senate 3 of the 4 Democrats, constituting the majority of the committee, are Confederates, and in the House the majority of the committee are all Confederates—(5 Confederates and 4 Republicans) —are all men, the cardinal maxims of whose caste in the old oligarchy, and who act upon those maxims to-day in their States in their treatment of the laborer prior to 1861 were, that "certain menial employments," all manual labor, "are incompatible with mental cultivation," with education, and accordingly punished then as now as crimes all attempts to introduce within their limits popular education, that "raiment food and shelter," the physical wants of the animal, were the highest needs of the laborer, that the negro, brutalized by slavery, was in bondage superior "mentally, morally and socially," to the white workingmen in freedom. Hence, that "slavery was the natural and normal condition of the laborer," that "slavery was right and necessary, whether white or black," and lustily shouted as their favorite slogan, 'Liberty for the few, slavery in every form for the masses!' Such were up to the latest hour of their old dominions, and are now the principles and the aims—the revival and extension of slavery, and the perpetuity of ignorance among the masses, of the oligarchial caste to which in both houses of Congress have been given, and designedly, the Committees on Education and Labor.

And as a part of the Great Usurpation the Committees on the Ascertainment and Declaration of the Election of President and Vice President are in both houses in the hands of the Confederates. In the Senate the committee is composed of 4 Confederates, 1 Northern Democrat and 3 Republicans. In the House the committee is composed of 7 Democrats and 4 Republicans, but 4 of the 7 Democrats are Confederates, and so constructed deliberately with implied instructions to devise and report some plan or scheme, however unlawful or revolutionary, by which to enable the oligarchal minority to count out the loyal or national candidates for President and Vice President, if elected by the people, no matter how large their majority on the popular vote, or how decided in the electoral colleges—to fraudulently seize upon the next Presidency—to restore by force and fraud the Confederates in all branches of the National Government.

BUNIONS, CORNS, NAILS, TENDER FEET, &C.

Wonders tread upon the heels of Wonder in this age of scientific discovery and at each new achievement of science the world doubts and questions until overwhelming evidence compels it to believe When Stevenson built the first railroad locomotive the public curled its lips contemptuously and said No go When Morse proposed to harness the lightning and annihilate time and space the Wiseacres cried impossible When De Guerre announced that he could make shadow independent of substance and realized the old German legend in the daguerreotype everybody exclaimed absurd, yet everybody was wrong. The Iron Horse is the slave of commerce and pleasure Electricity puts a girdle around the world in a few minutes, and we have each others shadows on our parlor walls, so, too when Dr Briggs produced his Bunion Balsam Sure Corn Cure, Silver Corn Plaster Deodorizing Foot Lotion and Radical Cure for Ingrowing Nails, to sol [illegible] effect a cure for improper treatment never failing [illegible] results the incredulous shook their heads and we have everything and [illegible] relieved of nothing but our money Yet his same Dr Briggs replied my remedies are what they are represented to be I warrant them to cure Hard Soft and Ulcerated Bunions Hard Soft and Felted Corns Sore Insteps Blistered Heels Vascular Excrescence Chilblains Tender Feet, Excessive Perspiration Offensive Odor Ingrowing Nails and every ailment of the feet. The remedies will be furnished to persons the parties on condition of no cure no pay Every agent is authorized to refund the money on request of the purchaser Hence the result was complete satisfaction guaranteed [illegible] routed and all doubts as to the permanent cures of Dr Briggs to a prominent place in the ranks of modern inventors acknowledged These remedies are sold and warranted by druggists throughout the world Address DR JOSIAH BRIGGS President of the International Medical and Chirurgical Institute 1260 and 1264 Broadway New York Sold by WM E MANN wholesale and retail F J TANEY J F PATTEN and W L ALDEN & CO sept23

FROM ROCKLAND

Haynes Trial Commenced.

ROCKLAND Sept 22 The trial of Sam'l D Haynes for the murder of James P Robbins began in the Supreme Court this morning It will be remembered that Haynes was confined in the lock up on the charge of committing certain store robberies of which he has since admitted he was guilty and Robbins was a special policeman having him in charge Near midnight on the 11th of June, both being in the police room in the second story of the lock up, Haynes struck Robbins a terrible blow with an iron stove wrench and ran down stairs and escaped He was recaptured at Islesboro on the 17th brought here and committed for trial Robbins died on the 14th

I M Staples, County Attorney, appeared for the State and J E Hanly Esq for the defence No difficulty was found in getting a jury from the regular panel and few were asked if they had formed an opinion as there was no question as to the main facts, but only as to the degree of the crime

The County Attorney opened for the State claiming that the facts to be proved clearly constituted murder in the first degree Haynes had offered to plead guilty of manslaughter but this plea the County Attorney would not accept

Policeman Hewitt testified to leaving the lock up after 11 o clock on the night of the murder leaving the prisoner and Robbins together When he returned half an hour later, a prisoner in the lock up was making an alarm and witness went up and found Robbins insensible and bleeding on the floor An iron stove wrench with a ball on one end and the other broken and jagged with blood upon it lay near

Haynes Convicted of Murder in the First Degree

In the S J Court this afternoon the declarations of Robbins having been ruled out the government stopped J E Hanly Esq opened for the defense, claiming that the prisoner had no intention to produce death by the blow inflicted on the deceased and that the evidence would only justify a verdict of manslaughter Haynes was then sworn and testified that he was twenty two years of age He detailed the circumstances of the fatal striking, saw there was a sword hammer and hatchet in the room easily to be got at said Robbins was friendly to him and granted him all the privileges he could, Robbins nodded and went to sleep several times was sitting in a chair leaning forward and whittling the bark from a stick the prisoner was walking back and forth, and took the wrench from a cupboard and put in his pocket and walked about some minutes waiting to get his courage up then struck Robbins a blow on his head intending only to stun him Robbins did not fall, the prisoner ran down stairs and at the foot heard Robbins fall but supposed he had recovered and would pursue him The prisoner never told Mr Mortland that he meant to kill Robbins He might have said he meant to fix him Did not intend to strike with the iron but only with his knuckles He had a conversation with the County Attorney in which the latter threatened to indict him for wilful murder unless he fully confessed his robberies

On cross examination he showed how the blow was struck He took the wrench with intention of striking Robbins, but not a fatal blow The reason he did not strike with the larger end of the iron was that he was that he was afraid he would not knock him down thought he could strike a more stunning blow with his knuckles than with the large end of the wrench did not consider how hard he should strike before he gave the blow A witness testified that prisoner's knuckles were bruised which he said was from striking Robbins The defense closed here

In rebuttal the County Attorney testified that he made no such statements as Haynes has testified to, and several other witnesses to the conversation contradicted the prisoner on this point The testimony closed here and the case was argued briefly by counsel and after an impartial charge by Judge Danforth the jury retired at 3 05 At 6 50 o clock they returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree The prisoner received the verdict with the same composure he has exhibited throughout the trial He was remanded for sentence and the Court adjourned

Go-As-You Please

There were several thousand persons in Madison Square Garden at nine o clock, and most of them had remained all night They were just as enthusiastic and demonstrative in their applause as at the start

Dutcher fainted on the track at the last lap of the 221 mile, but came on again and struggled on gamely He again fainted on the 24th mile and was finally withdrawn from the race after scoring 23 miles and 30 laps Rowell is ahead

The score at two o clock stood—Weston 62, Rowell 77, Hazael, 67, Guyon, 72, Ennis 74 Panchot, 63, Merritt, 61, Hart 69 Krohne, 55 Taylor 60, Jackson, 60, Federmeyer 50 The crowd in the garden is increasing every hour Rowell finished his eightieth mile at 2.27 Ennis finished his seventy fifth mile at 2 08

By 9 o clock to-night 7 000 people were in the Garden and the applause for each contestant in the great match was about equally distributed The light is miserable, every one smoked and the atmosphere is oppressive Hazael about four o clock in the afternoon started and ran and made six miles in 40 minutes, his example stirred up Rowell Guyon, Ennis and others to good work, Hazael's mile marks went up quick and fast Weston got sick early in the evening and he walked and trotted and went to his tent regularly. He complained of smoking, but those who know him say it is of the "pace" Smoking did not seem to bother either Rowell, Guyon Ennis or the other pedestrians

At 10 o clock the score stood Rowell 121, Guyon 109, Ennis 100, Merritt 99 Hart 98 Panchot 96 Jackson 89, Krohne 85 Taylor 90 During the evening Rowell took but few rests, and these short, he seemed determined to place a clear lead between himself and all competitors Ennis turned 100 miles near 10 o'clock and the applause was tremendous The band played "Killarney" and a basket of flowers was handed him The next for 100 mile honors was Merritt and as the figures were placed on the blackboard, all Massachusetts shouted itself hoarse The applause for Merritt had scarcely subsided when cries of "Hart," "Hart," went up, as the colored paced along, he turned 100 miles at 10 14 o'clock, amid great applause

Score at 1 A M —Weston 95, Rowell 127, Hazael 100 Guyon 115, Ennis 103, Panchot 100, Merritt 110, Hart 110, Jackson 98, Krohne 90, Taylor 81, Federmeyer 85 About 1500 present

JAPAN

Honors to General Grant

YOKOHAMA, Sept 8 General Grant has had a series of demonstrations unparalleled in Japan The entire nation was aroused to enthusiasm by his presence The citizens of Tokio, the capital, expended upwards of $60 000 in entertainments The government officials exhausted every means of manifesting their respect and confidence. General Grant's visit will leave a marked and lasting impression on the destinies of this empire The Emperor repeatedly visited him to consult upon public questions, and requested General Grant's counsel throughout He advised a firm spirit of independence and absolute resistance to the aggressive policy pursued by many European representatives under the lead of the British Minister

During his stay in the capital of Japan General Grant's time being constantly held by native officials, he was obliged to decline all private hospitalities, the only exception being the acceptance of an entertainment at the residence of Hon H House proprietor of the Tokio Times The American Minister gave a dinner, as did also the United States Consul at Yokohama A proposition was once entertained of stopping the City of Tokio at Honolulu Gen Grant desiring to visit the Sandwich Islands This being found impracticable Admiral Patterson offered the steamship Monongohela for the voyage but arrangements for departure had already been completed During General Grant's sojourn a hoax was practiced by circulating a printed memorial to the Emperor threatening death to all distinguished visitors This paper is known to be the work of foreigners but owing to extradition the Japanese authorities cannot pursue investigations and the perpetrators will probably escape punishment

THE FRANKFORT FIRE

Additional Particulars.

In yesterday's issue we made brief mention of the Frankfort fire and since then we have learned the following additional particulars. The fire originated around the kitchen chimney at the hotel and was discovered at about midnight by one of the girls in the house The flames spread with great rapidity and the house, stable, hay, grain and numerous other articles, were soon entirely consumed, although most of the furniture was saved in a damaged condition D N Ewell, the proprietor of the hotel, had an insurance of three thousand dollars on the buildings and one thousand on the furniture. The amount of his loss is not known The hotel was in excellent condition, having been renovated within a few years, and the stable, which was a fine one, was recently erected From the hotel the flames spread to Messrs. Pierce, Rowe & Co.'s store, which was also consumed. Their stock was nearly all saved, but some of it was damaged and thieves carried off what they could get their hands upon. They had an insurance of $2,000 on the stock, and the building, which was owned by E. B. Treat, Esq., was insured for $1200. The building was a large one and the insurance will not cover the loss. A small building owned by Nathaniel Averill, Esq., worth $200 or $300, in which the post office was located, was burned and was a total loss, there being no insurance on it. The elegant residence of Mrs. G. A. Pierce had a very narrow escape, and was only saved by taking up the carpets and hanging them on the outside of the building, and then keeping them saturated with water. As it was the house was somewhat scorched, but the damage is fully covered by insurance. The heat was so intense that the windows in Treat's block, on the opposite side of the road, were cracked, and Mr J D Kingsbury, who occupies the stores, moved his goods. His loss was very slight and was fully covered by insurance Mr Upton Treat, in the store adjoining, packed his goods, but did not move The post-office has been moved into Treat's block This fire is a serious loss to the town The hotel, it is expected, will be rebuilt on a smaller scale, and Messrs Pierce, Rowe & Co will probable erect a new store

A Trial That Didn't Terminate Pleasantly for the Complainant

Belfast Sept 22, 1879

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

Mr Clark Marden was arraigned before the Police Court Saturday afternoon, on charge of bribing a voter at the recent election, wherein Mr M was a candidate The complaint was made by a young man named Pomeroy, at the instigation of R W Waldron, all parties of Swanville At the hearing Pomeroy testified that his complaint was entirely unfounded and that Mr Marden did not attempt to exercise any improper influence but merely asked the complainant to vote for him, personally He also testified that Waldron told him that he could get twenty dollars and traveling fees by making such complaint Mr Marden was of course, acquitted

Thereupon, Waldron made complaint against Pomeroy for committing perjury Pomeroy was arraigned this morning and bound over in the sum of $500 At the last hearing Waldron admitted that after the warrant against Mr Marden had been issued he advised Pomeroy to take all of Marden's money he could get, but refused to testify positively whether or not he urged him to attempt to extort money from Mr Marden before the arrest was made under the warrant

Pomeroy can neither read nor write Waldron is under bonds to abide the action of the Grand Jury under charges of perjury and assault with intent to rape Mr Marden is one of the witnesses against Waldron in the perjury case and also in a civil suit He is also a witness against Waldron's wife in another perjury case, likewise awaiting the action of the Grand Jury

FROM EXETER.

Serenade to George S Hill, Esq

To the Editor of the Bangor Whig & Courier,

Saturday evening, 20th inst, witnessed an unusual and highly interesting demonstration in the quiet town of Exeter, the occasion being the tendering of the compliment of a serenade to George S Hill, Esq, the Representative elect of the class composed of the towns of Exeter and Garland Having shown their high appreciation of their esteemed fellow citizen by their votes on the eighth of September, the Republicans of the towns mentioned desiring to give a still further expression of their esteem, and also in a fitting manner to celebrate and rejoice over their hard fought battle and nobly won victory, decided to tender Mr Hill a complimentary serenade and Saturday evening last was settled upon as the time when it should come off Accordingly upon that evening a large concourse of the people of the two towns, variously estimated at from one thousand to fifteen hundred in number assembled in front of the residence of Mr Hill and with the Corinth Cornet Band serenaded him, the band performing several choice selections in good style after which Mr Hill appeared, and was received with loud and enthusiastic applause Mr Hill was introduced to the multitude by Augustus Chandler Esq and made a brief but telling speech congratulating his friends upon the grand victory achieved for truth, honesty and justice He was followed by Ira W Davis Esq of East Corinth, and Charles P Church, Esq, of Bradford, both of whom spoke to the point, and whose speeches were well received After the speaking there was more music, and at its close the band and several of the prominent gentlemen present were invited to partake of a bountiful supply of refreshments provided by Mr Hill and his estimable lady, for which the band showed its appreciation by performing several more selections in an excellent manner A fine display of Chinese lanterns and fireworks added much to the interest of the occasion, which will be long remembered with pleasure not only by the esteemed gentleman in whose honor it was gotten up, but by the citizens generally who joined so heartily in carrying out the programme to so successful completion

NORTHPORT

The Attractions of Mount Percival

[From the Belfast Journal

A year or more ago Hiram Pierce, Esq of this city, became the possessor by purchase of the greater portion of that well known land mark in Northport, the Bluff and this year he has acquired a few additional acres, so that he now holds some thirty acres or more, embracing the summit, the lesser elevation to the southard, and a good bit of woodland Mention has heretofore been made in the Journal of the construction of a road leading from the old stage road to the summit of the Bluff, it will be a surprise to those who drive over it for the first time to find that Summit avenue, as it is appropriately called, is of so easy a grade that it may be driven over by any kind of a vehicle Proper provision has also been made for drainage, and when finally completed it will be as good a road as one could wish At the first turn of Summit avenue, as you ascend, you see under a clump of trees to the left—a favorite resort of picnic parties—a good sized table, placed there by Mr Pierce for the public use Sign boards direct you to the mineral spring near at hand, where an unfailing supply of excellent water is found bubbling up among the rocks, clear as crystal, cool and pleasant to the taste. A short drive from here takes you to the summit which Mr Pierce has christened Mount Percival. The name is found on a sign board, the support of which is surrounded by stones in a pyramidal form Every visitor is requested to place an additional stone on the pile, which has already attained a considerable size. Near by is another table for the use of picnicers, on whose smooth surface are inscribed the names of visitors from all parts of this State, from Massachusetts, New York, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and there is one who hails from Paris, France. The view from this point has often been described, but must be seen to be appreciated. As a location for a summer hotel it can hardly be equaled, and certainly not surpassed There is solid rock for a foundation, plenty of room for such a structure, with the necessary outbuildings, and excellent facilities for drainage. Seaward on a clear day the island of Matinicus may be discerned with a glass; and then directing your gaze more to the southard, Owl's head stands boldly out. Sweeping around to the west you find a range of hills, resembling in appearance the Sierras of California and Nevada, and whose irregular outlines cut off the horizon. Still turning to your right, Belfast and the hills beyond come into view; the bay is spread out like a map at your feet, with all its curves and indentations; you can follow the road along the shore which beyond Little River becomes Northport avenue, while the cluster of cottages on the Camp Ground, nestled on the hillside, and with the foliage of the grove for a background, looks like a very densely built village. Searsport Stockton the mouth of the Penobscot, and the hills which mark the course of that river, are plainly seen, and looking over Long Island you see Castine light, the entrance to the harbor, and, farther to the eastward Cape Rozier Long Island, with its irregular outlines and adjacent islands large and small, alone make up a picture worthy of the brush of the most skilful marine artist This is, however, but a mere outline of the succession of views presented from this elevation And now let us explore the surroundings There is, of course, a great diversity of surface, and a little below the summit are clusters and groves of trees in which after judicious pruning, shady bowers, carpeted by fallen leaves will invite the weary, and the lazy, to rest and be thankful in the summer days One of these nooks in which Mr Pierce detected a young lady in the very act of writing poetry has been christened Poets Bower and another, whose name is no less significant is known as Cupids Bower Near these retreats a depression in the hillside may by building a dam across a narrow outlet be transformed into a pond of the extent of an acre, and a short distance below the summit a spring of large capacity will be dug out and stoned up before another season opens Mr Pierce has also projected additional avenues, one leading from Summit avenue and called Atlantic avenue takes you upon the lesser elevation before mentioned, where you are nearer the water than when on Mount Percival but do not have so extensive a view of the surrounding country as from the higher point The work already done has made this old time and favorite resort into a public park and it has had more visitors during the past summer than ever before Picnic parties from the Camp Ground were of daily occurrence and all seem to have appreciated the conveniences provided for them by Mr Pierce Nor has there been a single act of vandalism

Some of the present generation seem to think that the Bluff is a recent discovery or rather that it has only recently become a resort for picnic and pleasure parties This is a great mistake As long ago as 183? a former resident of this city celebrated his 21st birthday by giving a champagne lunch on the summit of the Bluff Champagne it may be added was a much more common beverage here then than it is now One incident of this picnic has been recalled In those days fashion had decreed that gentlemen should wear close fitting pantaloons and the host of the occasion who was in the extreme of the fashion in this respect met with an accident through the exertion of climbing which compelled him to retreat down the hill backward seeking refuge in a vehicle and be driven homeward before his guests were ready to depart

In later days say a quarter of a century ago the leaders of Belfast society were wont to entertain their guests from sister States by picnics at the Bluff One or more coaches and other vehicles were pressed into service and these occasions were enjoyable once to all who participated in them The writer attended one of these picnics twenty six years ago when a lady and gentleman from New York, then visiting on Primrose Hill were the guests and then made the discovery (?) that the Bluff was hollow At all events a vigorous thumping on the ground at one place produced a hollow rumbling sound suggestive of a cavern beneath This is not a sell

ST. NICHOLAS,

Scribner's Illustrated Magazine

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

AN IDEAL CHILDREN'S MAGAZINE.

Messrs SCRIBNER & Co., in 1873, began the publication of ST. NICHOLAS, an Illustrated Magazine for Girls and Boys, with Mrs Mary Mapes Dodge as editor Five years have passed since the first number was issued, and the magazine has won the highest position. It has a monthly circulation of OVER 50,000 COPIES.

It is published simultaneously in London and New York, and the transatlantic recognition is almost as general and hearty as the American Although the progress of the magazine has been a steady advance, it has not reached its editor's ideals of best, because her ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after To-day ST NICHOLAS stands

Alone in the World of Books:

The New York Tribune has said of it "ST NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for its service wider resources in art and letters than any of its predecessors or contemporaries ' The London Literary World says "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of Scribner's press"

Good Things for 1878--9.

The arrangements for literary and art contributions for the new volume—the sixth—are complete, drawing from already favorite sources, as well as from promising new ones Mr Frank R. Stockton's new serial story for boys,

"A JOLLY FELLOWSHIP,"

Will run through the twelve monthly parts—beginning with the number for November, 1878, the first of the volume—and will be illustrated by James E Kelly The story is one of travel and adventure in Florida and the Bahamas For the girls, a continued tale,

"Half a Dozen Housekeepers,"

By Katharine D Smith, with illustrations by Frederick Dielman, begins in the same number, and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "Eyebright with plenty of pictures, will be commenced early in the volume There will also be a continued fairy tale called

"Rumpty Dudget's Tower,"

Written by Julian Hawthorne, and illustrated by Alfred Fredericks About the other familiar features of St Nicholas, the editor preserves a good humored silence, content, perhaps, to let her five volumes already issued, prophesy concerning the sixth in respect to short stories, pictures poems humor, instructive sketches and the lure and lore of Jack in the Pulpit," the "Very Little Folks" department, and the 'Letter box," and 'Riddle-box"
